1. A motorized rifle division command is in the castle of Strada Castelului. The divisional commander is a colonel, a former officer of the royal army. He is quartered in a villa on Sirul Hotilor.
2. In the old artillery barracks, called the "Yellow Barracks" on Strada Fabrici, a Rumanian motorized artillery regiment of two sections (abteilungen) is quartered. The barracks were largely extended in 1949-1950, with new buildings having flat modern roofs. There have been observed twelve 76.2 mm guns and twelve 122 mm howitzers at this point. The auto park consists of 40 new ZIS type machines.
3. The infantry barracks on Calea Victoriei, called "Black Barracks" were placed in order in 1949 and enlarged with new buildings and garages. An infantry regiment of 1,000 to 1,200 men is quartered here. Part of this regiment, probably a battalion, is in the citadel.
4. A new barracks for armor has been built on the road toward Campulung. there are some 35 T-34 tanks there, and 15 to 20 assault guns.
5. The airfield is on the south side of the road toward Sfantu Petru. It is 2500 x 1500 m, and part of it is well drained. Across the field there is a concrete landing strip 40 m wide. The buildings are on the northeast corner of the airfield, and consist of four hangars, three two-storied buildings and garages. A Rumanian fighter squadron is stationed here, equipped with YAK-9, Messerschmidt 201 and jet fighters. The total number of planes is 40 to 45.
